GENERAL OBSERVANCE OF FIRST HEATLESS MONDAY REPORTED

Railroads Redouble Efforts To Assist In Fuel Distribution

The Pennsylvania Receives No Freight On any of Its Lines Save Fuel.

Department and other Stores Throughout the Nation Observe Closing Order.

Cold Weather Continues To Hinder Coal Shipments.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 21. — General observance of the first heatless Monday was reported today throughout the country. Many railroads were assisting in the effort to supply homes and trans-Atlantic shipping with coal and were moving little general freight.

The Pennsylvania went so far as to instruct its agents to receive no freight for shipment at any of its stations.

Coal and food were virtually the only commodities moving, aside from a small amount of war supplies. The volume of coal reaching seaboard for ships was increasing steadily.

State Fuel Administrators reported that most office buildings were burning only enough coal to prevent freezing of pipes.

Department stores and other retail stores were closed.

A request that elevators be operated in office buildings and that lighting be used only for purposes of safety, has met, it was said, with a general response.

The use of coal for light and elevators will specifically be forbidden in an amendment closing order before the next heatless Monday.

Cold weather continued to interfere with railroad operation but the effort to keep coal and food moving will, it was said, materially improve the situation.

NO CONFUSION MANIFEST IN OHIO CENTERS

Buckeye State Observes Heatless Day in Letter and in Spirit.

Coal Movements Held Up by Cold Weather.

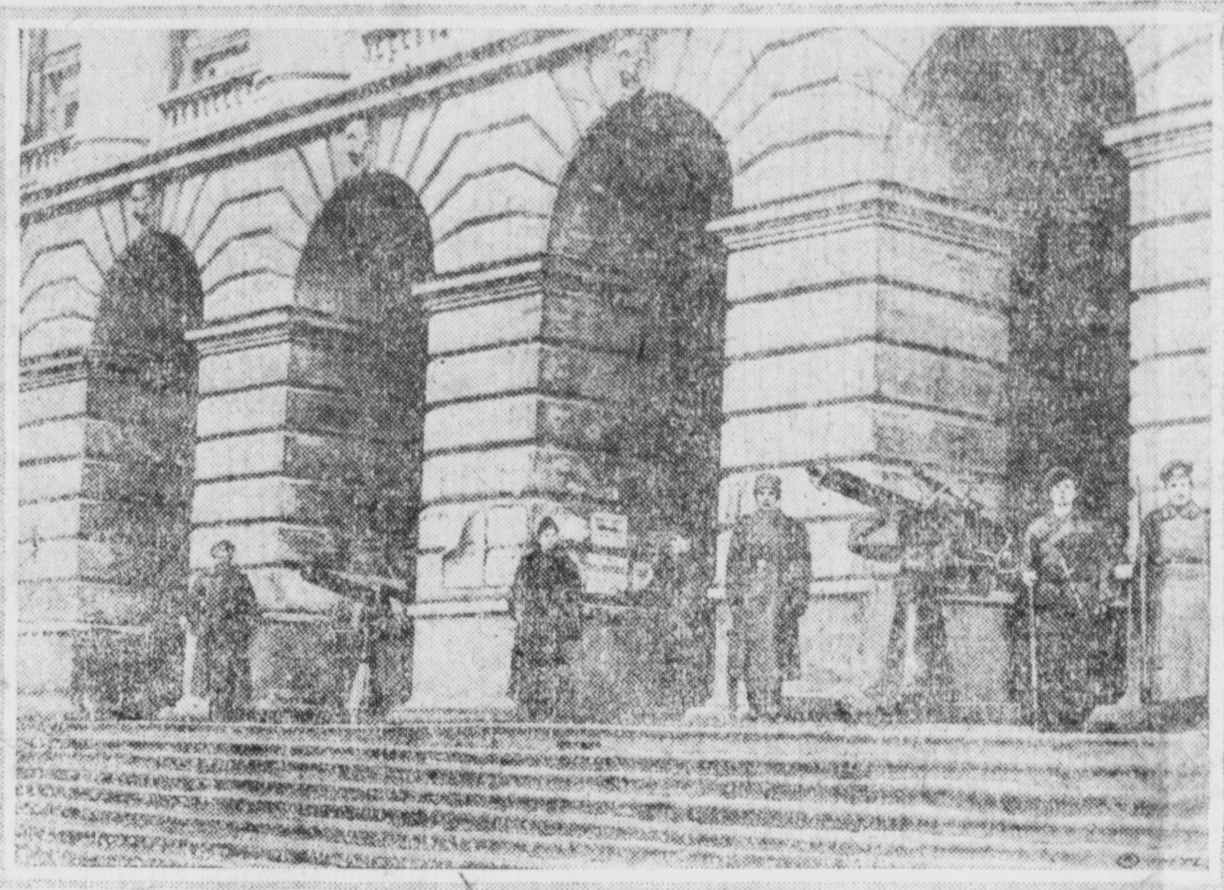

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., January 21. — Ohio today observed the general closing order on the first fuelless Monday and there appeared little or no misunderstanding regarding the order, according to a statement from the state fuel administrator's office. With this report was one from the office of the chief inspector of the public utilities commission that coal movement in and from the state still was in a bad way. Cold weather has frozen up dozens of engines.

WOODWARD MAKES FULL CONFESSION

Washington, January 21. — Frederick Woodward, a private in the Quartermaster's Corps, confessed today that he started the fire which threatened the quarter master storehouse last week and destroyed $50,000 worth of supplies. An official statement says Woodward declared himself a pyromaniac.

GUARDING SMOLNEY INSTITUTE IN PETROGRAD

GUARDING BOLSHEVIST HEADQUARTERS

The different uniforms worn by these Bolshevik troops gives an idea of the disruption of the Russian armies, caused by the recent revolution. Troops from different regiments quit the front and poured into Petrograd. In the attempt at re-organization regiments were formed from the soldiers overrunning the city, which accounts for the different uniforms worn by the troops in the above picture. These soldiers are guarding the Bolshevik Headquarters, Smolney Institute, in Petrograd.

STORM CLOUDS GATHER FAST OVER RUSSIA

Premier Lenine Says He'll Not Permit Assembly to Gather.

French Bring Down German Planes.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

It is reported that Russia's constituent assembly will be succeeded by the workmen's and soldiers' congress which has been supporting the Lenine government. Bolshevik troops now guard the deserted assembly hall and Premier Lenine announces he will not permit the delegates to assemble.

Whether the Social Revolutionist majority will submit to the Bolshevik orders without protest is not clear. Increased artillery and aerial activity on the western front has been accompanied by more frequent raids by both sides.

On the Italian front there has been only artillery fighting most marked along the Piave river.

Sixteen German airplanes were brought down Saturday in France by French and British airmen.

DUTCH SHIPS CONTROVERSY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 21. — Character to the United States of all Dutch steamers now held in American ports has been decided upon by the Dutch government in a provisional agreement just signed in London.

The agreement provides charter for one round trip for the upward of 80 vessels now in American ports.

MAKE MEN BETWEEN 18 AND 62 ELIGIBLE

WASHINGTON, JANUARY 21.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—A BILL AUTHORIZING THE PRESIDENT TO ORDER THE REGISTRATION AND DRAFTING OF ALL MEN BETWEEN 18 AND 62 TO BE USED IN THE CONDUCT OF INDUSTRY NECESSARY FOR THE WAR, WAS INTRODUCED TODAY BY SENATOR McCUMBER, AND REFERRED TO THE MILITARY COMMITTEE.

PRESIDENT WILL FIGHT WAR COUNCIL TO A FINISH

Serves Notice on Senate that He'll Use All His Influence Against Plan.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 21. — President Wilson has served notice on Democratic leaders in the Senate that he will use all his influence to beat the bill to create a war council.

"The President will fight to the finish" was the word brought to the capitol today.

Establishment of a war cabinet of three members is provided in the Senate military committee's bill as introduced today by Chairman Chamberlain.

WILL NOT RECEDE.

Chairman Chamberlain of the Military Committee with the approval of practically all the Democrats of the committee who showed no disposition to recede, introduced the bill despite the President's announced determination to oppose it.

HISTORIC CONTEST.

Members of Congress saw in the situation the making of a historic contest between the executive and Congress. President Wilson told the leaders with whom he consulted today that he considered the creation of a war council would take the personal direction of America's part in the war out of his hands, and likened it to the attempt to curtail the authority of President Lincoln.

FAVORS A PEACE

(Associated Press Cable)

Amsterdam, January 21.—The negotiations between the Central Powers and the Ukrainian "people's republic" at Brest-Litovsk have resulted in an agreement on the principles of a peace treaty which is to be concluded and the war be declared terminated, according to advices received today.

THE TERMS OF PEACE.

On the conclusion of peace, the advices said, the troops of both sides will be withdrawn and it is provided in the agreement that arrangements be made in the peace treaty for the immediate resumption of economic intercourse and the resumption of diplomatic and consular relations as soon as possible.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, January 21.—The strike movement is spreading throughout Austria-Hungary and is associated with a demand for immediate peace, according to dispatches received in London from Swiss and Dutch sources.

A general strike was declared at Budapest, Friday, when the entire transport system came to a stand still while from all parts of the Dual Empire, strikes and demonstrations were reported.

SCATHING ATTACK IS MADE ON ROOSEVELT

Missouri Senator in Carefully Prepared Address to the Senate Denounces Critics of Administration.

Ex-President Roosevelt Most Agent of Kaiser is One Starling Statement.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 21.—The greatest political debate in the Senate since the United States went to war burst out today when Senator Stone, disregarding the advice of other administration captains, arraigned leaders of the Republican party as playing politics with the war, with the object of taking the government into their own hands by partisan criticism. Fully prepared to reply, the Republican Senate leaders took copious notes of the denunciation and gave it closest attention.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 21.—Characterizing former President Roosevelt as "the most potent agent, the Kaiser has in America," and "the most seditious man of consequence in America," Senator Stone addressing the Senate today, charged that Republican leaders are engaged in a studied effort to make politics out of the war. Their object is to "take the government over into their own hands," by partisan criticism of the conduct of the war, he declared.

Senator Stone's address, carefully prepared, the first of political significance in Congress since the United States entered the war, and regarded as the forerunner of bitter partisan strife, exoriated partisanship in the war. Besides Colonel Roosevelt, the Missouri Senator named Chairman Wilcox of the Republican national committee and Senator Penrose among Republican leaders as his "witnesses" to the political plot he alleged. Investigations by Congress of war operations, Senator Stone declared, have almost entirely been launched by Republicans and adroitly exploited for partisan purposes.

Citing statements of the Republican leaders regarding the political plans and editorials of Colonel Roosevelt which he said "are villainous screeds published for money," Senator Stone declared:

"On my responsibility as a Senator, I charge that since our entrance into the war Roosevelt, by his attacks on the government, has been a menace and obstruction to the successful prosecution of the war.

EXPECTANT ATTITUDE BY ALLIES BEING MAINTAINED

Sec'y Baker's Weekly Review of War on Western Front.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 21.—The allies are maintaining an expectant attitude on the western front, Secretary Baker stated today in his weekly war review, while recent events in Russia have greatly increased the strategic freedom for the Central Powers.

"Defensive dispositions re-organized their tactical arrangements which in many areas were hitherto chiefly of an offensive character.

"While the enemy has been busy concentrating his offensive the British and French have greatly strengthened their defenses, reorganizing their tactical arrangement which in many instances are chiefly of an offensive character and are now prepared for any eventuality," says the review.

COLDEST SPOT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., January 21.—The Federal Fuel Administration's first heatless Monday found Ohio in the grip of bitter cold weather with the upper Ohio valley the coldest part of the United States, according to a weather bureau report today.

MAY HOLD RAILROADS IN PEACE TIME ALSO

Sec'y McAdoo Continues His Talk to the Senate.

Disclaims Any Connection with Fuel Order, but Approves It.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 21. — Director General McAdoo told the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today that he thought the government should retain operation of the railroads for sometime after peace comes and not return them to private ownership until new and comprehensive laws had been enacted to govern them.

"It should be borne in mind," said Mr. McAdoo, "that by the end of the war the public and shippers will be accustomed to dealing with the government and I am convinced that a thorough time should be given at the end of the war before the roads are turned back to their owners."

Director General McAdoo denied he had anything to do with the fuel restriction order. He said he approved the order.

LATE MARRIAGE CASES APPEALED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 21.—Government appeal agents have been instructed to appeal all cases where local draft boards have granted deferred classification to either class two or four on account of marriage since the draft law was enacted, May 18, 1917.

The Provost Marshal General's office stated that the order for appeal did not indicate any general policy to deny exemption to men who married after the law was enacted, but was to insure uniform decision concerning each case on its merits.

MUST MOVE CORN AT ONCE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 21. — Telegrams from the governors of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas and Iowa, declaring that unless the corn crop is moved within the next few weeks much of it will be lost, were laid before Director General McAdoo by Representative McCormick, of Illinois, who requested that a practical railroad man be appointed to take charge of moving it.

G. O. P. COMMITTEE.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., January 21.—The Republican state central and executive committees and the state advisory committee will meet here tomorrow to discuss plans and policies for the coming year.

ALL BUSINESS IS SUSPENDED DURING
HEATLESS MONDAY

Little or No Protest Is Made as Firms Throughout City and County Close Places of Business Today—Federal Authorities Asked to Report All Persons Violating Order.

The drastic order of the Fuel Administration for observance of a "heatless" Monday was carried out to the letter in this city and county, with very little protest, nearly everyone realizing the importance of conserving fuel so that the present stress can be relieved, and munitions, food supplies and troops can be moved without delay.

Banking house and grocery stores closed at the noon hour, while virtually every other business house in the city, with the exception of drug stores did not open for business, and the heat was turned off in nearly all places of business, so that a 40 degree temperature prevailed.

Eyes On Them
Reports of two or three violations of the order of the Fuel Administrator were made, and it is understood these were turned over to the local federal authorities, who had received orders from the Federal Government to report all violations promptly so that they could be turned over to the department of justice for action. The Fayette County War Work Council, it is understood, will aid in preventing violations.

County Offices Open
The county and city offices were kept open as usual, and offices of attorneys and others were locked up for the day, and the heat turned down as much as possible.

The day passes off very quietly, with no disturbance of any kind, and full observance of the succeeding heatless Mondays will prove beyond question the loyalty of Fayette county business interests.

ANNUAL INSTITUTE
OF DEEP INTEREST
AT BLOOMINGBURG

County Agent is Favored by Assembly—Lectures of Great Helpfulness Are Given—Local Talent is Life of The Institute

Despite the fact that the attendance was somewhat depleted by the severe weather, the annual Farmers' Institute of Bloomingburg, held Friday and Saturday, was attended with pronounced success. Splendid programs were presented at each session and the consensus of opinion was that unusual interest stimulated discussion and led to increased exchange of helpful suggestions.

Mr. M. L. Dickey, whose experience and quick wit peculiarly fit him for presiding officer, was acting president and there wasn't a slow moment in the two days' sessions.

Three state speakers delivered lectures of great helpfulness and were enthusiastic over the spirit of the institute. C. R. Wagner spoke on Friday, handling the subject of Livestock.
Horatio Markley, a business farmer,
in great demand as a state speaker,
treated on Friday of Soil Fertility and Corn Growing.

Messrs. H. W. Wilson, H. A. Pinkerton and H. W. Bussert led the discussions which followed these talks and gave valuable suggestions from their own experiences.

Saturday's institute drew an attendance of between two and three hundred. Mrs. Luella Bar McKee, a chautauqua lecturer and demonstrator, gave two fine lectures, one on Red Cross work and one on "Woman in the Home," which aroused favorable discussion.

Mr. Markley addressed the institute on "Community Co-operation and Organization," "Successful Wheat Growing" and "The Business Side of Farming."

Mr. T. Glenn McCoy ably conducted the chief discussion of the afternoon.
The annual election of officers resulted in the re-election of the same officers with the exception of the secretary, A. O. Riley, whose resignation was followed by the election of Mr.
J. N. Browning.

The officers are: President, R. G.
Jefferson; vice president, M. L. Dickey; treasurer, H. A. Pinkerton; executive board, J. E. Hopkins, L. W.
Heinlein and Chas. Bitzer.

FINAL COUNT SALE

The following resolutions were passed, the one relative to the absence of the president finding special echo from every one present. A copy of this resolution was sent to Mr. Jefferson at the Hodson Hospital Saturday afternoon:

To the Bloomingburg Farmers' Institute, Bloomingburg, Ohio.

We, your committee on resolutions, beg leave to submit the following resolution for your consideration:

1. We regret that our worthy President, R. G. Jefferson, is not present with us at this meeting. We extend our sympathy to him and his family in the affliction that has come to him and hope that a kind providence may soon restore him to his usual health so that he may be able to resume his accustomed place among us. We record our sincere appreciation of him as a man of high ideals, worthy purpose and sterling character. His tireless efforts and efficient services have done much to make the Farmers' Institute of this place a success.

2. We desire to thank the state speakers, Messrs. Wagner and Mark-ley and Mrs. McKee for their practical and helpful addresses, the Sutphen Concert Company for their delightful music and entertainment; and all others who took part in the program or in any way helped to make the institute a success.

We also desire to thank the Presbyterian church for the use of their comfortable and commodious church building and the ladies of the church for the delightful luncheons which they served.

3. We respectfully protest against rule 4 of the State Board of Agriculture prohibiting the importation of hog cholera virus and serum into the state except by consent of the state veterinary, and requiring that a graduate veterinary administer the serum when nongraduates can and do administer the serum with equally good results.

4. We pledge our government our heartly co-operation in this critical period through which we are passing.

5. In this time of conservation effort we disapprove of the manufacturing and sale of intoxicants of all kinds not only because of the vast amount of grain which is worse than wasted in its manufacture and which would go far toward alleviating the present distressing food situation, but also because of its disastrous effects upon the morale and efficiency of our citizenship when every citizen should be at his best. We favor the national prohibitory amendment submitted to the states by our national Congress.

6. We favor having a County Agent for Fayette county.

J. G. LAUGHLIN
ALBERT HAINS
IL A. PINKERTON

Mr. Cory, of Frankfort, added to the program a practical paper on "Increasing the Hog Product of the County."

The Sutphen Music Company furnished greatly enjoyed music all day Saturday and drew an appreciative audience for their concert Saturday night.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church furnished splendid dinners on both days, the younger women serving Friday and the older Saturday.

FUEL COMMISSION
OF CITY SEIZES
THREE CARS COAL

Action Results from Seizure of Coal Consigned to This City.
Only One Half-ton to Each Family Is Allowed—Busy Scene
About Confiscated Cars.

The Fayette County Fuel Commission Monday morning seized three cars of coal on the sidings in this city, and the much needed fuel was distributed in half-ton lots to all who applied, it being the desire of the Commission that only those in actual need of coal at the present time, make application for the coal.

Soon after the three cars were confiscated scores of persons, with every conceivable kind of a vehicle, and even sacks, flocked about for a portion of the coal, and the three cars speedily disappeared to the four corners of the community.

The action of the Commission is due to the fact that other points had seized coal consigned to this city, and under the new ruling during the special days of industrial suspension, the commission felt free to take the coal, which was consigned to Dayton firms.
Sunday two cars of coal reached the city, and these were disposed of promptly during the day.

Until the coal becomes more abundant, the practice of one party taking more than a half-ton, whether he lives in the city or out of the city, will be frowned upon by the authorities.

APPRECIATED

Columbus, O., Jan. 18, 1918.

Editor Herald.

Washington C. H. O.

Dear Sir:—

Please allow me to thank you on behalf of the Food Administration, for the splendid editorial in your paper of January 12, under the heading: "More Conservation." Let me assure you that such editorials are of great assistance in the work of the Food Administration and reflects the patriotic spirit of the Buckeye Press.

The happy suggestion you make to housewives to "do no talking;
but plan for saving and just bring on the new dishes as a surprise for father and the family, and in nine cases out of ten, they'd think something extra is going on instead of an effort to conserve"— is a good one and we shall pass it along.

Again thanking you for your co-operation, I am,

Very truly yours,

FRED C. CROXTON.

Federal Food Administrator for Ohio.

PAYING EMPLOYEES
THE GENERAL CUSTOM

In almost all of larger cities of the country and many of the smaller ones too, the employers of labor have been, during the holiday periods ordered by Fuel Commissioner Garfield, paying their employees wages just the same as if no closing up order had gone into effect.

In this city, unless there is some special reason employers are paying their assistants and employees full wages.

Rasputin, the black monk of Russia, is the strangest figure of modern times. Born and bred a peasant of the humblest sort, he was raised by the force of his hypnotic power over women and by startling circumstances, to a point where he was the real Czar of Russia. And while in this commanding position—dictating policies to the Czar and indulging in the wildest sorts of excesses, he endeavored to make a separate peace with Germany for the purpose of bringing about the downfall of Russia and further increasing his vast power. But Rasputin's desires made him over-running himself. The liberty-loving groups in the empire sought his life and plans were all made to bring him to the gallows and send him to Siberia or to kill him at once. Then unexpectedly, Rasputin met his death dramatically. The whole story is graphically and thrillingly told in "Rasputin, The Black Monk," the sensationally timely new World-Picture Brady-Made which will be the attraction on Wednesday at the Colonial Theatre. This big production has been produced with a notably brilliant cast. The stars are Montagu Love, June Elvidge, Arthur Ashley, Julia Dean, Irving Cummings and Hubert Wilke and in addition to this list of superior film favorites scores of others are seen. Scenically this picture is magnificent. It has been produced with a lavish outlay of money and time. Not a thing has been overlooked which would go to make "Rasputin, The Black Monk" a more dramatically effective or impressive. It is right up to the minute in timeliness and as it tells the true story of the Russian Revolution and the fall of the Romanoffs it is one of the most vitally important pictures of the year.

Making Changes

One of the most astonishing developments of the war, so far as America is concerned, is the ease and the cheerfulness with which the people adopt every regulation, to meet the demands of the nation.

Changes which only a few months ago would have been universally conceded to be impossible are made nowadays in a few hours.

Every one goes about the work of making the requested changes cheerfully and whole heartedly, asking no questions and seeking no method to evade.

Of course, the explanation for the existence of this highly satisfactory condition is to be found in the deep patriotism which underlies our whole business and private conduct.

Another condition, of course, which contributes to that result is the universal desire to meet conditions, the universal obedience to all orders and compliance with all requests without question.

It is astonishing what general co-operation, springing from the desire to perform a patriotic duty, can bring about.

Radical changes in business and social life these days are accepted as a matter of course and the work of making changes necessary to meet new conditions, taken up and completed as an every day task.

The War Council

President Wilson, it is understood, disapproves of the effort to create a war council. Doubtless the chief executive has some good reason because his actions as his expressed opinions, are almost without exception formed only after full and careful consideration of all the facts.

Few indeed are the acts of President Wilson, even in these trying times, that are actuated by the impulse of the moment. Watchful waiting has been his controlling rule in all matters of great moment. So well has the nation come to know this that no one ever considers any act of the president to have been taken "on the spur of the moment."

Close observers have long realized that the burdens of war especially the details of preparation have fallen heavily upon the president and the department heads who have taken seriously the tremendous work of the times. No man, of course, and no council of men can share the responsibility which attaches to the chief executive. The people will look to the president, especially now since he has been granted such extraordinary powers, and hold him responsible for all that does not work out right in the end. That does not mean, however, that he must carry the crushing burdens of all detail management.

Most people, who have given the subject even the most casual consideration are unable to understand why the proposal to furnish assistants is not welcomed by the man upon whom the burdens of the time have fallen so heavily and to whom almost the entire civilized world is looking for aid and for advice.

The legislative branch of the government and the people of the nation have, long ago, determined to place unlimited confidence and sweeping authority—greater authority than any president ever had—in the president and to accept his opinions and grant his requests without serious question.

While Congress has, at times, shown a little impatience, yet the deference shown to the every wish of the chief executive, the promptness with which his every demand has been met, is at once a tribute to the patriotism of Congress and an evidence of the confidence in which President Wilson's high character and splendid judgment are held by Congress.

An Evidence

One of the evidences of Germany's weakening power, the falling morale among the troops and the waning confidence of the war lords in their ability to make further drains upon the already exhausted people of the nation, seems clearly evidenced in the ridiculously false reports concerning America's entry into the war.

The German people are told, through the columns of the junker controlled press that America can never put more than four hundred thousand men in the field, that she can contribute nothing of consequence, on land or sea or in the air, to the fighting strength of the Allies.

The most patent misstatements intended to minimize the effect of America's entry into the war, are published and circulated broadcast throughout the empire.

Of course, the adoption of such a course does no harm to any one save the German people. It cannot change the facts or exert the least possible influence on American's power.

Of the two extremes the safer one is to magnify, rather than belittle the power of your opponent.

Unless there was the very best of reason for so doing we cannot believe that the German General Staff would be guilty of such a colossal blunder, and blunder it is and will be proven to be by the results it will produce.

Poetry For Today

THE SUBJECT OF FUEL
Coal bin mighty empty and the mercury goin' down;
The bottom of the woodpile and not a cord in town.
But don't you growl and grumble
When you think of over there
Where the boys has gone to battle
And so glad to do their share.

Blizzards on the warpath and gas pipes on the bum;
Steamboats out of business, not a clinker in the grate.
But don't you moan and murmur
When you realize how they
Have given up every comfort
To be trained across the way.

Every river frozen and the trains a-runnin' late;
Steamboats out of business, not a clinker in the grate.
But don't you moan and murmur
When you realize how they
Have given up every comfort
To be trained across the way.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young — to do this you must watch your liver and bowels — there's no need of having a sallow complexion — dark rings under your eyes — pimples — a bilious look in your face — dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Social and Personal

The fifty-fourth wedding anniversary is an occasion sufficiently rare to elicit congratulations quite out of the ordinary and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flee, Sr. are receiving the best wishes of friends galore upon the happy celebration of so many years of married happiness on Sunday.

Not since the fiftieth anniversary celebration had there been such a joyous family gathering in the Flee home as that of Sunday, when children and grand children assembled at the noon hour, surprising Mr. and Mrs. Flee and showering congratulations. An elegant dinner was brought from picnic hamper and placed on long tables, prettily decked with flowering plants.

Thirty-four were seated and no dinner hour was ever marked by greater pleasures, binding anew family ties which have always been unusually close.

Seated with the bride and bridegroom of over half a century ago were the children and grand children Mrs. Mary Ruley, Mr. and Mrs. John Flee and son, of New Vienna; Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Teeters and three children, of Bowersville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flee, Jr., and two children; Mrs. Minnie Flee and three children; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flee and three children; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Flee and two children; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Flee, Mrs. Cleve Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ruley, of Columbus.

Mr. Flee was for many years regarded as one of the ablest and most widely known lumber men of this section and, while not as active in the business as formerly, still retains his connection with the J. W. Willis Lumber Co.

The early home of Mr. and Mrs. Flee was in Ross county, the marriage being a romance of Civil War days, the bridegroom, a member of the 63rd O. V. I., came home on a furlough to marry Miss Harriet Palmer at her home near Chillicothe and returned to the civil war zone for nearly two years of active service.

Misses Doris Kelley and Alice Reuser delighted their friends with a well rendered classical piano program Saturday afternoon at the Stinson School of Music.

Mrs. Eldora Stinson prefaced each number with an interpretative talk thus giving a better understanding of where to look for melodies, and other musical points to show the authors meaning.

Miss Helen McCune and Francis McCoy assisted in the program.

Dainty refreshments were served.

Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Hughey, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Peddicord left Sunday afternoon for Miami Fla., where they join Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peddicord for an indefinite stay. Enroute they will stop at Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Daytona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Flee were down from Columbus to attend the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flee, Sr. Mrs. Flee remained until Monday the guest of Mrs. Minnie Flee and too back with her for a visit Mrs. Flee's little daughter, Mildred.

HOLD YOUR BONDS SAYS SEC'Y M'ADOO

Washington, Jan. 21.—Liberty bond investors are warned by Secretary McAdoo to beware of irresponsible persons offering other securities in exchange. In a statement appealing to bondholders to "hold fast to the best investment in the world," Mr. McAdoo said:

"Through the intensive work carried on during the two liberty loan campaigns a patriotic army of over 10,000,000 bond buyers in this country has been created. It is of the utmost importance that the investments of this army of patriots should be safeguarded in every possible way, and that their action in lending their money to their government should not be taken advantage of by irresponsible people seeking solely to profit for themselves.

"I therefore warn investors in liberty bonds against exchange of these evidences of their patriotism for any securities or so-called securities. While some of the securities, or so-called securities, offered in exchange for government bonds are of sound value, there is no doubt that a large percentage of them are worthless. It is my earnest hope that every purchaser of a liberty bond will realize that the only genuine help he gives his government is by keeping his bond as an investment as long as it is possible for him to do so."

REV. TITUS LOWE VISITS FRENCH WAR CEMETERY

Rev. Lowe, former Fayette county resident, now pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Omaha, Nebraska, writes from abroad with much pathos of a visit paid to a little French cemetery. In part he says:

"I made, recently, a visit to a little new cemetery just beyond one of the big hospital units. It was very new, very muddy and very raw. Its dimensions are not more than 80x80 feet. It is surrounded by a small wall built without mortar and is entered by a little gate.

"In one corner are the graves of six Algerian soldiers who were members of the French forces. They were all under thirty. Their names were suggestive of Abu Ben Adhem, Ben Ezra, Mahomet el Mahout, etc. On the plain board which marked each grave was the crescent of their Moslem faith. On each board were printed the words 'Died for France.'

"In the next corner was a group of Russian dead, all of them young men. Over each grave was the Greek Catholic cross and loving French hands had written: 'Notre cher Camarade Russe.'

"In the next corner was a group of French graves, all carefully tended, the graves of men who gave their lives willingly for La Belle France. But the corner remaining brought the hot tears to my eyes and a clutch to the throat. They were American graves, amongst the first of that long line of graves that we shall dig in this beautiful land of France. Of course, these were also young.

Each Grave is Marked.

"A bottle was placed on each grave containing a typewritten statement of the name, place of residence, profession in civil life, etc., and the army affiliation. A large number of them were listed as students, young men who had not yet really started their life's activities. I put up a bit of a prayer for the loved ones left behind and I am praying for them even as I write.

"One of these American graves is that of a noble nurse, a member of the Red Cross contingent. She had contracted a contagious disease while nursing and weakened by over-work had succumbed. I suspect that in losing her life she found it according to her life's work. When they buried her spiritless body, they did it with full military honors. No soldier who dies on the actual field of conflict will deserve it more than she.

"Don't fail, my people, in your prayers for us. We need your total support."

TEACHERS AND PUPILS TO AID WITH SEED CORN

Appeal Is Made to Every Rural and Village Teacher and Pupil for Tests of Corn, and Federal Aid Will be Given in Fayette if Tests Show Shortage of Dependable Seed.

Rural and village teachers of Fayette county, as well as those of the rest of the state, are going to do their bit toward meeting the alarming seed corn shortage in Ohio. Much of the corn that is thought to be good is not standing the test. To supplement investigations made by the College of Agriculture and the Agricultural Experiment Station, County Superintendent Oliver S. Nelson is requesting that a test be made by the rural and village teachers of the seed corn to reveal the situation in their districts and to return the results of the tests to him. He will send them to the College of Agriculture, where they will be summarized. If the survey shows that the county faces a serious seed corn shortage, federal money will be used in buying seed corn in localities where it is available and selling it at cost to the farmers.

As the production of corn in this county is 2,075,500 bushels according to the best available information, and the acreage devoted to this crop is about 75,000 acres, the planting of poor seed or the inability to get a good supply would prove a serious embarrassment to the crop in this county.

Each rural and village school teacher is asked by the county superintendent to take 2 kernels from each of 50 ears of corn and to make a demonstration test in accordance with instructions forwarded to them. The accuracy with which this test is made will have a great deal to do with whether state and federal aid will be needed by or afforded this county. The task entrusted to them, therefore, is an important one. In a proclamation by Governor Cox and in the word sent by the county superintendent, it is expected that this test will be made beginning January 29. In order that the data may be summarized in time, the teachers are being urged to make their reports promptly.

NEW CARRIER ON ROUTE NUMBER SIX

Harry T. Hiser, of Milledgeville, one of Fayette county's most capable school teachers, has been appointed carrier on Rural Route Number six, out of this city, to succeed Everett Cory, who becomes a railway mail clerk.

The appointment is the result of a civil service examination a short time ago, and becomes effective February fourth.

Mr. Hiser is now teaching school in Jasper township, but will forego the work of teaching in time to begin his work February 4th.

That Mr. Hiser will prove as popular in his work of delivering and collecting mail as in the school room is assured.

HOGS WALK OVER TOP OF THE FENCES

A Jefferson township farmer was surprised Sunday, when he noticed his herd of hogs in his garden, and upon making an investigation he found that a snow drift had covered the wire fence about the garden and that the hogs had deliberately walked over the top of the five foot fence.

Not only did the drift cover the fence with a foot to spare, but it was frozen so hard that the hogs had no difficulty in making the journey over the "natural bridge." They were driven out of the garden over the same bridge.

SUNDAY MORNING WAS THE COLDEST

While the average citizen did not realize it, Sunday morning was the coldest of the present winter, and will probably stand as the record for the winter—18 degrees below zero, according to the official registration in this city, or one-half degree lower than on the morning of December 7th when the mercury hovered about 17½ below zero. However, as usual, thermometers in some parts of the county went below 20 at the same time.

Monday morning was not so slow when low temperatures are concerned, and lacked only 1 and ½ degrees being as cold as Sunday morning.

The Weather Man has very kindly promised warmer weather for tonight and tomorrow, and humanity in general hopes that he will continue to relent and produce more favorable weather.

"The only possible effect of these widely published utterances of this man," said Senator Stone, "has been, as they were designed to be, to discredit and bring the present government into public disfavor and weaken its hold on popular confidence. That seems to be the Rooseveltian standard of patriotism."

Similar utterances made by less powerful citizens, Senator Stone asserted, would subject them to prosecution for disloyalty.

"Of all men," the Missouri senator continued, "Roosevelt is most responsible for what he denounces. He does his work cunningly. In the front of his propaganda he throws a deceptive political camouflage. I charge that Theodore Roosevelt is the most potent agent the Kaiser has in America. I cannot escape the belief that this exceptional colonel, who has played so many games of questionable politics, is now playing another game of his particular brand for a very great stake."

The Republican plans he cited, Senator Stone said, have been adroitly directed.

"Many, if not all Republican Senators," he asserted, "are acting in manifold concert, with dominant Republican leaders throughout the country to make politics out of the war."

As proof of Republican partisan plans Senator Stone, declaring that there is no need "to try to fool each other or to fool the country," said that congressional investigations of the war proposed by Republicans were significant. Calling attention to the elections next fall of the entire House membership and many senators, Mr. Stone said two years later the presidential election would follow.

"Here is a chance," he proceeded, "for the dominating Republicans of the country—some of them, perhaps more than one of them, seeking to promote his immediate personal glorification, and others, acting on a larger scale, a party advantage—to strike hard to turn down this administration and take the government into their own hands. The fight is on. It is being played before our very eyes."

"There are various elements of discontent in the country. Their potentiality as political equation is recognized by all. The natural disposition of these discontented elements will be to strike blindly at the party in power. Therefore, in a way, Republicans ally themselves with these discontent elements of unrest."

"But I especially protest against and denounce the effort put forward under the guise of patriotism to disparage this Congress and the present administration, to excite a wider feeling of discontent and lack of confidence, and to spread the poison of this impression broadcast. Plainly this sort of movement is fool."

As proof of his charges which, Senator Stone said, he presented "deliberately and regretfully" the Republicans are "harping" on alleged administrative blunders and staking their political fortunes upon their criticisms.

"First, I present the Honorable Boise Penrose," Senator Stone continued, "who as a great leader of the foremost Republican state, very properly occupies the front seat in the Republican National Sanhedrin."

Citing alleged statements of Senator Penrose that the Republican leaders were planning to demand an accounting of the conduct of the war, Senator Stone said that Senator Penrose's justification for his partisan outburst was over appointment of the Democratic groceryman in Pennsylvania and a Democratic farmer in Indiana as federal explosive inspectors.

"Senator Penrose," he said, "seems to have forgotten partisan appointments by the governor of Pennsylvania of Republicans on war committees." Of the Pennsylvania committee members, Mr. Stone said, 309 were Republicans and only 14 were Democrats.

Turning to Chairman Willcox of the Republican national committee, the Missouri senator said, before he introduced his star witness, "he would cite the statement made to the press by Mr. Willcox regarding the incompetence of the Democratic party and its effect on coming congressional elections. He said a meeting of the Republican leaders had been called at St. Louis on February 12 to inaugurate a winter campaign."

"Colonel Roosevelt has engaged a hall in St. Louis to make a war speech the day before the committee meeting," Senator Stone continued. "I now introduce my star witness: Theodore Roosevelt himself—whom I characterize as the most seditious man of consequence in America. The heart of this man is aflame with inordinate ambition and he runs amuck. His chief thought is not to help the government but always of Roosevelt. Almost every day this man speaks in bitter and contemptuous disparagement of the president and the majority members of this Congress. Every week for a long time he has been and still is publishing under contract for a money consideration—think of it, for money—villainous screeds in The Kansas City Star, attacking the president and the government. These Roosevelt contributions are reproduced in numerous important newspapers. Whatever may be said of the papers reproducing these disloyal utterances, The Kansas City Star is chiefly responsible."

Citing criticisms of Mr. Roosevelt's editorials, Senator Stone continued: "For example, Roosevelt denounced the President and the government in terms that would subject almost any other citizen to arrest—yet his utterances which I say would be denounced as treasonable if made by others, are widely published without even of special protest."

"I have quoted these utterances of Roosevelt, first to show that his vaunted claim, self-advertised, of a superior brand of patriotism, is empty, and, secondly, to inquire why Roosevelt may say things with impunity which a citizen of lesser consequences dare not even repeat without danger of indictment for disloyalty."

At this point the senator made his reference to Roosevelt as an aid to the Kaiser and then turned to the congressional war investigations. He did not question the right of Congress to make the inquiries but rather their purpose and publicity given to national difficulties.

"I cannot believe," he said, "that world-wide advertisement of national difficulties in our war activities, even if ultimately found true, is necessary to bring about administrative reforms. I doubt the wisdom of wide-open investigation into almost everything that might be made the subject of criticism of the administration."

"I do not mean that administrative errors should be concealed from our people. Of course, mistakes have been made by the government—doubtless many and grave mistakes. In the circumstances that was inevitable, but is it necessary for us to stand on a house top and proclaim these mistakes with a loud voice to the whole world?"

Considering everything, Mr. Stone asserted that the achievements of this Congress and the administration "signaled a degree of marked success without parallel in the world's history." Undue publicity given present mistakes, he said, had advertised the nation's weakness to the enemy.

"The time for flaunting them is past," he continued. "This is the time for universal national sympathy and solidarity. My appeal now is to my ly against influences calculated to mislead us," and I appeal to my colleagues on the other side of this chamber to thrust back the evident rising tide of partisanship."

The Republican leaders' purpose, he reiterated, is to elect a Congress out of harmony with the President.

"What would happen to the Wilson administration if the Republican party should have control of the next Congress?" he asked. "If I were to adopt the use of Billy Sunday classics, the President would have a hell of a time."

In concluding, the Missouri senator presented statistics of what he termed were partisan appointments of state war committees. In New York, he said, a Republican governor appointed 82 Republicans and three Democrats, while in Ohio a Democratic governor named 18 Republicans and ten Democrats. In California, the Republican governor, he asserted, named 63 Republicans and four Democrats. He gave the statistics to show, he asserted, that Democratic governors had been non-partisan in their appointment while Republican governors had not.

TRACTOR SCHOOL HERE NEXT MONTH EXPERT TEACHERS

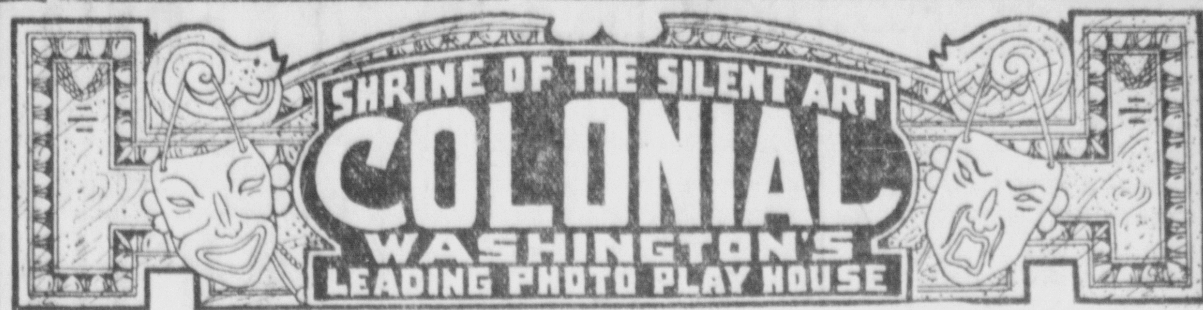

Of all the machines a farmer owns, none is more important than his tractor. Especially is this true this year. Tractors must be in condition to work day and night if necessary to make possible the increased production of food we need. There must be no delays due to unsatisfactory operation, no loss from misunderstanding.

To this end the international Harvester Company of America proposes to hold tractor schools in various parts of the country in order that their users may get the best possible service out of their tractors.

One of these schools will be held at Memorial Hall Washington C. H. February 5th and 6th. The sessions will open promptly at 8 a. m.

This school will be absolutely free to all who care to attend, whether they are tractor owners or not. Nothing will be offered for sale at these schools and their will be no selling talks. A course of instruction is how a tractor works and how to keep it working will be strictly adhered to.

The instructors are practical tractor and engine men and the course is laid out on large charts illustrated with clear diagrams and described in

GENERALLY OBSERVED AS AS HOLIDAY

(By American Press)

Washington, Jan. 21.—The eastern half of the United States is observing the day generally as a holiday, the first of 10 seatless Mondays decreed by the government to conserve coal and to clear congestion from the railroads.

Although the closing order, promulgated by Fuel Administrator Garfield, goes no further than to forbid the use of fuel for heating, fuel administration officials expected business to cease, and last night Dr. Garfield issued a direct request that all retail establishments, except food and drug stores, close their doors for the day. At the same time office buildings were requested to observe the spirit as well as the letter of the order and operate no lights or elevators except to accommodate the few exempted persons who are housed in their buildings.

Food stores, which in the original order were permitted to remain open only half the day, were granted a special dispensation under which they may sell goods throughout the day. It was said that the use of fuel for lighting buildings and for operating their elevators probably would be prevented during the remainder of the Monday holidays. In drawing the order this was overlooked and thousands of telegrams have reached the fuel administration asking for a ruling.

While reports to the fuel administration told of an increased movement of coal to householders and to ships under the first three days' operation of the five-day factory closing order, severe weather held back the clearing up of freight congestion, which was one of the chief purposes sought. At the office of the director general of railroads it was said that there was little hope for material improvement in traffic conditions until the weather moderated.

Efforts were centralized on the movement of empty coal cars back to the mines, and to the transportation of bunker coal to the Atlantic seaboard. A total of 150,000 tons of bunker coal had arrived or was en route for north Atlantic ports, while 100,000 tons had been delivered on the southern seaboard and 200,000 tons more was on its way. At one southern port 30,000 tons was delivered Sunday to ships that have been tied up for more than a week.

A return of snow and zero temperatures checked the general movement of coal and other freight, especially in the middle west.

SCHOOLS OPERATE ALL OVER COUNTY

The majority of the schools of the county were opened Monday, the late ruling Saturday being that the schools are not affected by the Garfield order to conserve fuel.

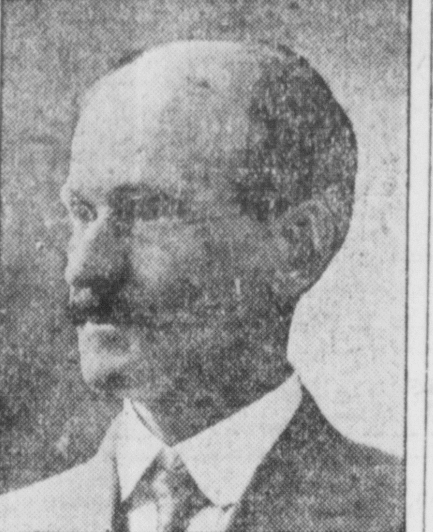

Quite a number of the schools did not open on account of scarcity of fuel, or severe weather, or because of contagious disease in their respective communities.

CHOLERA SITUATION IN FAYETTE COUNTY

The hog cholera situation in Fayette county is believed to be better at the present time than at any time in a great many months, and a local veterinarian is authority for the statement that at the present time there is very little of the swine plague in the county.

Farmers have been giving more attention to the proper treatment of their swine to prevent cholera, and this is believed to be the chief reason for the comparatively small number

WILL SPEAK AT GOOD HOPE INSTITUTE

C. P. FUNK, Wayne County.

WOULD MAKE FARM BETTER PLACE ON WHICH TO LIVE

Bases Talks on Farm Experiments and Practical Experience.

C. P. Funk of Wayne county, who will speak at the farmers' institute, has had more than 25 years of practical farm experience. He has studied agriculture in many of its phases and has given attention to the great social, moral and intellectual problems of rural life. He is especially qualified to discuss problems pertaining to the handling of soils and of crop production and marketing. He has lectured on the farmers' institute platform for several years.

In his lectures he relates the results of experiments which he has conducted in soil improvement and crop production.

of cases in the county at the present time.

Immunization made a spread of the cholera impossible and with continued care of swine in the same manner, no serious results are anticipated.

Meanwhile Fayette farmers who realize the enormous meat shortage are raising more hogs than ever before.

FAYETTE SLACKER WANTS TO ENLIST

Willie West, slacker, recently arrested and taken before the United States Commissioner at Columbus, is now in the Franklin county jail awaiting action of the Federal grand jury which will not meet until July. He was bound over to the grand jury at a hearing the latter part of last week.

West, who was picked up near Millersburg, has relented and is now very anxious to enter military training, and has offered to do so, it is understood, if he is released from jail.

However, the grim hand of Uncle Sam has closed upon him and a term in federal prison may be given him before enforced military training.

SPECIAL SESSION COUNCIL TONIGHT

A special session of council will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of considering the annual budget which will be presented and for taking up the semi-annual appropriation ordinance.

Other business may be taken up during the course of the evening, but nothing of importance outside of the budget and appropriation ordinance is anticipated.

MILITARY MEN ARE IN CONTROL

(By American Press)

Chillicothe, O., Jan. 21.—The Fay transportation system, under which all taxicabs and buses operating between Chillicothe and Camp Sherman have been licensed and controlled by T. J. Fay, Cleveland promoter, is on its last legs, following the formulation of new rules under which taxicabs will operate under the direct control of the military authorities after Jan. 25.

Major Thomas Fitzgerald of Cincinnati is designated passenger transportation officer and will have complete control of all cars coming in camp. He will grant licenses to all taxicab operators who present satisfactory evidence of good character, capability and suitability for cab service. Regular routes will be operated according to the new order.

The Fay system has been in operation three weeks and from the first has had the opposition of several hundred drivers, who declined to pay Fay $19 for a license and 25 per cent of their receipts on the grounds that such an arrangement was inequitable.

Local police at Circleville, aided by department of justice agents, apprehended Paul L. Wink, said to be a farmer from Kingston, who police say they believe is a bootlegger who has been operating in Circleville for several weeks. He is held for investigation.

BOYS ASSEMBLE FOR WEEKLY DINNER

An excellent dinner was served to the Juniors of the "Y" Saturday, following the usual custom. The menu of the feast was mashed potatoes and gravy, fried liver, bread, butter, pie and cocoa, all for 15 cents.

At the round table discussion after the dinner, it was decided to form Bible classes among the boys.

GETS TANLAC EACH TIME SHE GOES TO CITY

Woman Tells How Tonic Brought Back Appetite and Says She Eats as Much as Her Husband Now.

"Every time I go to Cincinnati now I bring a bottle of Tanlac back home with me," said Mrs. L. Spencer, of Glencoe, Ky., near Cincinnati.

"I'll tell you why," she continued. "I used to feel tired and worn out all the time. My appetite was very poor and no matter how fresh and nice food was it didn't appeal to me. We live right out on the farm, too. I was nervous and restless and couldn't sleep at night. I'd just toss and roll about the bed and I felt so tired in mornings that I could hardly do my work."

"Well, I tried Tanlac and what it did for me surprised me. It brought back my appetite so that I eat as much now as my husband. I'm gaining in weight, too. I sleep fine all through the night now and get up in mornings feeling refreshed."

"Yes, sir, every time I go to Cincinnati now I bring a bottle of Tanlac back home with me and I'm glad to recommend this medicine for others."

If you feel worn out and half sick get Tanlac and get your system back in shape. You can get Tanlac at Blackmer & Tanquary's drug store, Frank Christopher's drug store, or C. S. Haver's drug store. Advt.
